

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 22, 1908

COMMON REPORT around the capital in Washington does not give James E. Sherman, candidate for vice-president, praise for patriotic or disinterested work in any matter. He always has praised Roosevelt, yet Roosevelt never intrusted him with anything connected with the execution of "my policies." In fact Mr. Roosevelt never had anything to do with him except when it was to his own interest, as in the case of the "My Dear Mr. Sherman" letter, prepared for the undoing of Harriman. Mr. Sherman was chosen then because he was chairman of the republican congressional committee. Judged by the company he has kept as a member of the House, persons who heard he was one of five congressmen from New York who did not pay their clerks all the salary they were supposed to receive, were not at all astonished. They simply thought it not at all unlikely, because there is nothing in the law requiring a congressman to pay all the $125 a month he receives for clerk hire to one person. It is all right for him to pay a woman stenographer $50 a month and give the remainder to another clerk who, at the same time, may be receiving part of the clerk's allowance from another member. Mr. Sherman never has been an open and avowed friend of the railroads, but, with Mr. Dalzell, constitutes a majority of the committee on rules, which controls the House as absolutely as if it were a bit of chattel property.

SIXTY delegates to the democratic national convention were chosen during the past week. Full State delegations were elected from Colorado, Mississippi and Tennessee and six delegates were chosen at a second primary in Florida, the other four having been elected at the May primary. Of the sixty delegates selected last week fifty-nine are for Bryan and one is uncommitted. The call for the national convention fixed its membership at 1,002, the Philippines being excluded from representation. Six Philippine delegates have been chosen, however, and will apply for admission. Sixty-four delegates are still to be chosen from the four states of Georgia, North Carolina, Vermont and Montana. Georgia's delegation may be divided, but Montana and North Carolina are likely to support Mr. Bryan. Of the 938 delegates so far elected 727 are instructed for Mr. Bryan or committed to his support by resolutions of preference or public announcement. Twenty-two are for Johnson, 11 are for Gray and 178 are uncommitted. Mr. Bryan has the support of 77.5 per cent of the delegates so far elected, and according to these figures, will have a walkover on the first ballot at Denver. All talk to the effect that he will not secure the nomination on the first ballot seems to vanish in the face of these figures. It would not be surprising if Mr. Bryan's name were the only one presented at Denver.

MR. THOMAS LAWSON, to keep himself before the public has published a letter in which he asks Mr. Bryan to "say the word that will result in the nomination of Gov. Johnson, of Minnesota, for president on the democratic ticket, and to accept the nomination for vice president himself." Mr. Lawson offers to raise $500,000 to defray the campaign expenses of Gov. Johnson, and says if that is not sufficient he will guarantee another half million. Mr. Lawson is a four flusher and can not be relied upon. For some time past he has been advertising his advice and profiting from those who were silly enough to take it.

A DISPATCH sent out from Chicago last Thursday stated that the presidential candidate would be permitted to name his running mate if he so desired and added: No sooner had the convention adjourned today than Mr. Taft's immediate supporters set to work to ascertain his wishes regarding a candidate for the vice presidency. They wired him direct and pending his reply refused to voice any opinion as to the probable outcome of the balloting. As a rule, the Taft men manifested a willingness to abide by the secretary's wishes, but there were those among them who took the position that the delegates should be permitted to cast their votes according to their own predilections.

But it was not intended that they should. They were not sent to Chicago to exercise their own judgment but to obey orders.

MR. BRYAN declares the republicans have deserted seven questions of the day urged by President Roosevelt or Congress; that the party is "in full retreat," and that President Roosevelt has acquiesced in the "turning back." All of this is true, but there should be no surprise in the "turning back" of Mr. Roosevelt. He is one of the many who does not believe that a modern politician can afford to be consistent!

If a resident of Marshfield, Wis., is known to be a habitual drunkard he will find his photograph staring at him from behind the bars of all the saloons of that city. The Marshfield city council has passed an ordinance to this effect. The council will also sit as a court to decide on a man's eligibility to have his photo posted.

"I WOULD rather be a doorkeeper in the House of the Lord than dwell in the tents of wickedness," says Speaker Cannon. Evidently Uncle Joe cannot get a job as a doorkeeper—[Philadelphia North American.]

But he did not say so. He said he would rather be a doorkeeper in the House of Lords, but his familiars question his statement.

MR. SHERMAN, the republican nominee for vice-president, was for years the head of the ice trust in Utica, N. Y. Of course he will have to explain this during the campaign.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, June 22.

Within a few days Washington will feel the tremor of the political upheaval which threatens to interrupt the peaceful work of the canal diggers of Panama. Senator Mejia Salvadore, the new minister, will arrive and Senator Arango, the present minister of Panama, will depart. Behind the change lies a story. It is evident that President Amador is striving to elect his candidate, Arango, does not like the result of Senator Arango's labors—the crowding of marines on the Isthmus. While the Chicago convention was at its height he lurked in the shadows of Secretary Taft's office waiting to drop a word of alarm and ask for another draft of marines or another warship or two. Occasionally he remarked that if Obaldia was not elected there would be a revolution which would upset things on the canal. In the meantime President Amador kept the cables hot with messages of peace and serenity. Therefore the change. Senator Salvadore is on his way to Washington. When he arrives he is expected to supplement the messages of peace and paint word pictures of the quiet pre-election days in Panama. In the meantime the canal authorities are watching for themselves.

Captain A. Reynolds, who has been a navy representative in connection with warship construction at the Newport News shipbuilding and Drydock Company, has been assigned to command the armored cruiser Montana when placed in commission. The Montana will be turned over to the government at the Norfolk navy yard July 15.

The Weather Bureau issued the following special forecast at noon today: "The warm wave that now covers the country generally east of the Rocky mountains will break over the plains states Tuesday, over the Mississippi valley and the western lake region Wednesday night, in the Ohio valley and eastern lake region Wednesday night, and in the Atlantic states Thursday. Local rains and thunderstorms will attend the advent of the cooler weather in the several sections named. Moderate temperatures will be experienced over the eastern portion of the country during the closing days of the week."

A force of stenographers and clerks are working in Secretary Taft's office writing replies to the thousands of messages that have been received. The flood of telegrams is spent but nearly a thousand letters are coming in every day with a prospect of a still greater number within the next week. If Secretary Taft is physically equal to the task he will sign the several thousand messages now awaiting him on his return to the office. Mrs. Taft is also being engulfed with letters, but upon her departure yesterday she gave directions that they must not be touched until her return. She will, if possible, reply to all of them personally. Letters of congratulations were received this morning in the secretary's office from Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Garfield, the widows of the former presidents. Hundreds of letters come from business men throughout the country and their chief characteristic is a tone of hopefulness at the secretary's nomination.

A determined war against the present railroad rates on phosphate rock has been begun by fertilizer manufacturers all over the country. Today the Interstate Commerce Commission received a complaint from five firms—Darling and Company, of Chicago; The Buffalo Fertilizer Company, of Buffalo, N. Y.; E. I. Raub and Sons Fertilizer Company, Indianapolis, Ind.; J. A. Becki Chemical Company, Cincinnati, Ohio; and the Wichita Fertilizer Company, Dayton, Ohio. The petitioners claim that 38 railroads by successive advances in their rates, are now exacting an exorbitant and unreasonable rate for the transportation of phosphate from Tennessee to middle western points and discriminating against them.

So widespread has become the fatal accidents on Fourth of July that the federal government will endeavor to reduce the number of deaths. Surgeon General Wm. H. Wood of the Marine Hospital and Public Health Service today issued a circular giving instructions as to the treatment of Fourth of July injuries. He says that during the last five years, there have been 736 cases of tetanus, or lockjaw, as the result of the gunpowder celebration of the national holiday, and of this number 721 died. Dr. Wyman suggests the injuries be treated in this way: "Incise freely every wound. Carefully and thoroughly remove from the wound every particle of foreign matter. Cauterize the wound thoroughly with 25 per cent carbolic acid. Apply loosely a wet pack of 2.5 per cent carbolic acid, give a full dose of antitetanic serum."

The jury in the Hyde-Diamond-Schneider land fraud case reported again today their inability to reach a verdict. The jury was then locked up again.

NEW LAWYERS.

The record in point of numbers was made at the bar examination before the Court of Appeals, at Wytheville, last week, 101 applicants out of a class of 119 passing the examination. The following are the names of those in this section of the State who passed: Lewis D. Crenshaw, Orange; Alexander S. Campbell, Warrenton; Ames Cannon, Cranston; Herndon, E. A. Johnson, Woodville; F. D. Richardson, Fairfax; Walter H. Robertson, Warrenton; Ray Robinson, Winchester; Sidney Lee Shewalter, Broadway.

News of the Day.

Lewis Nixon is being talked of by New York democrats as the possible candidate for vice president on the democratic ticket.

"Elijah" Frank W. Sandford, founder of the Holy Ghost and Us Society, has predicted that the world will come to an end in October.

It is reported that all the French deputies and senators who voted for the separation law in Parliament have been excommunicated from the Catholic Church.

William J. Bryan is said to favor former State Treasurer Berry, of Pennsylvania, as his running mate, and is also said to be willing to accept Gray or Johnson.

Seven persons were painfully injured and a dozen or more sustained cuts and bruises as the result of a trolley wreck yesterday evening, when a loaded car crashed into an open switch on the Funkstown line, just outside of Hagerstown, Md.

Should Secretary Taft become the next president of the United States the country will again see the executive family divided in religious views, as in the Roosevelt case. Both Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Roosevelt are communicants of St. John's Episcopal Church; the present president worships at the Dutch Reformed Church, and Secretary Taft is a regular attendant at All Souls' Unitarian Church.

Two touring cars, one big and swift, the other a modest little one, collided with each other in a blinding cloud of dust near Hempstead on Long Island, about 6 o'clock yesterday evening. Joseph X. Arosemena, of New Rochelle, owner of the little car, died of a fractured skull an hour later. His wife, two children, and chauffeur, Arosemena's companions in the car, got off with bruises. All the five persons in the big car were hurt; three of them are at the hospital.

Taft and Sherman, the republican candidates, had a conference at the home of Secretary Taft's brother, in Cincinnati, Saturday, with the sub-committee of the republican national committee and postponed the selection of a national chairman. Frank H. Hitchcock, who managed the preliminary campaign of the war secretary at Washington, might have had the chairmanship. At the last moment he declined to permit the use of his name because of the condition of his health.

It is estimated that 500,000 people participated in or viewed the suffragette demonstrations in Hyde Park, London, yesterday. Encouraged by previous achievements, the suffragettes planned the demonstration as a climax of the year's fight for women suffrage, and perhaps never before was such a political demonstration seen in London. Probably there were about 20 speakers, and these harangued the masses on the right of women to vote and the necessity of force in parliament to adopt a resolution on the question. The attitude of the onlookers was one of amused tolerance. Considerable scuffling and rowdiness occurred around the platform occupied by Mrs. Parkhurst, the leader of the suffragettes, and it finally became so serious as to call for police reinforcements. Thirty persons were treated for slight injuries as a result of the crowding and fighting. Similar scenes were enacted around Mrs. Hartel's platform.

A GRASS WIDOWS' BALL.

Twenty of the merriest of "merry (grass) widows" were hostesses at a ball given Saturday evening at Stigler, the county seat of Haskell county, Okla. Twenty-four hours previously they had been freed from their marital ties by the decrees of Judge Bosser, of the District Court. The cartilage spouses of several of them attended the ball and were lively participants in the festivities. Three matronly widows acted as chaperones. Two of them had grown sons, who were escorts to the young widows from the east who had spent the required residence in the new state. The widows' attorneys and several strangers and a select few of the society folk of the town also were present.

Judge Bosser was toasted several times during the evening and was made the subject of a rousing song by a chorus of widows, with a refrain to the effect that "He's a jolly good fellow."

VIRGINIA-WEST VIRGINIA DEBT CASE.

Attorney General Anderson has been advised that Charles E. Littlefield, now of New York, former member of Congress from Maine, who has been designated as master in the Virginia and West Virginia debt litigation, has notified counsel for the State of Virginia and the State of West Virginia to meet him in Washington on June 29 for the purpose of determining on a course of procedure in the litigation. Mr. Littlefield was named special master by the Supreme Court of the United States to hear the case and to make a recommendation to the court to be followed in reaching a decision in the matter. It is evidently the purpose of the master to go into the case promptly and to put a final end to the long dispute.

LONGEST IN VIRGINIA.

The work of excavating the great tunnel through Clinch mountain at Speed's Ferry, on the Carolina, Ohio and Ohio railroad, is completed. This is the longest tunnel in Virginia, being approximately three-fourths of a mile in length. Very few accidents have happened in the tunnel, the greatest caution and care having been exercised. The grading of the road is nearing completion and the work is being hurried forward. It is understood that much track laying on the road will be done before the end of the year.

Virginia News.

Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd, of New York, preached the commencement sermon to graduates of the Virginia Military Institute yesterday.

Mrs. Annie Eliza Hollingsworth, widow of Joseph P. Hollingsworth, died at her home in Winchester on Saturday aged 55 years. She was a native of Loudoun county.

Sheriff Edwards, of Loudoun county, has gone to Carroll, O., for Harrison Thompson, colored, who in 1899 murdered Town Sergeant Milton Seaton, of Middleburg. Thompson is under arrest at Carroll.

Mrs. Mary Adelaide Brannon, wife of Robert Brannon, a well-known farmer of Fairfax county, died at her home, at White Hall, Saturday aged 68 years. She was a Miss Taylor and was twice married, her first husband having been the late Edward Lewis.

The Virginia Bankers' Association at their final session at Hot Springs Saturday elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Joseph Stebbins, of South Boston; secretary, N. P. Gastling, of Lynchburg; treasurer, H. A. Williams, of Richmond.

MRS. LOGAN CAUSES SURPRISE.

Mrs. John A. Logan amazed a large concourse gathered in Memorial Hall in the Public Library in Chicago Saturday to witness the unveiling of a bronze bust of her husband by plunging into a discussion of the unhappy marital experience of her daughter, Dolly Logan Tucker, and by voicing her bitter animosity against her daughter's husband, Col. William F. Tucker, chief paymaster of the Department of the Lakes.

Mrs. Tucker's charges against her husband of indiscretions with a fascinating widow in the Philippine Islands, and the attempt of herself and Mrs. Logan to have Col. Tucker cashiered by court-martial from the army, formed one of the most sensational chapters of newspaper history in recent years.

The 300 odd soldiers, their families, and friends who assembled to listen to Mrs. Logan, who had been invited to make the principal address at the unveiling of the bust of "Black Jack" Logan, knew of the venerable woman's dislike for her daughter's husband. But they were startled when she took the occasion as an opportunity to make the public familiar with her private griefs. "In the twenty-one years that have passed since Gen. Logan lay down to peaceful slumber," she said, "I have lived in bitter experience, the saddest being the past two years, because of the living sorrow which has come to our surviving child. We have borne all in silence, as we felt Gen. Logan would have had us do, believing that time would bring complete vindication and proof that it was not brought on by an act of ours."

The de Sagan-Gould Wedding.

Paris, June 22.—Mme. Anna Gould and Prince Helle de Sagan will be married in France, Germany, Poland, England or somewhere else. This is about as near as Dame Rumor has been able to get. The latest tip is that the wedding will take place in England, though there is nothing stronger to base this upon than the fact that Countess Anna and her lover prince crossed over into England from Boulogne last evening and had the auto, in which they left Paris, shipped across at the same time. On account of Madame Gould's desire to avoid publicity, one of her friends said today that the countess told her that no one would be present at the wedding except the contracting parties, the necessary witnesses and possibly the family of George Gould.

Dover, June 22.—Mme. Anna Gould and Prince Helle de Sagan arrived here today by the Folkestone channel. They traveled as Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and their identity at first escaped the notice of the other passengers. The fact that they traveled under the caption of "Mr. and Mrs." give rise to the report that they had already been married, but this was denied. It is understood that the marriage will take place in London within the next few days.

Mysterious Death.

New Philadelphia, Ohio, June 22.—Mystery in the tragic death of Arline Kneely, aged 19, and the wounding of Charles Spach Friday night was deepened when the girl's family changed plans for her burial today and interred the body privately yesterday. Coroner Romig had not held his inquest and developments may result in an order for the body to be exhumed. The authorities believe that a post mortem may reveal a motive for suicide by the girl or her death at the hands of another. Spach will live. He became conscious today and told the police that Robert C. Stueve, his partner, who was implicated by a statement made by Spach just after the shooting, had nothing to do with the tragedy.

A Bloodless Duel.

Rome, June 22.—A newspaper man named Zambelli, chosen by his associate reporters in the chamber to resent the insult cast upon them by Deputy Santani, who called the reporters "liars," fought a duel with Santani today. The affair lasted 60 minutes without injury to either man.

At the end of this time, however, Santani complained of a weak heart, and after a consultation of principals and "seconds" it was decided to call the game off for the present. Zambelli declares he will insist on revenge at a later date.

Hearing Postponed.

New York, June 22.—Supreme Court Justice Blanchard today postponed until Wednesday the hearing of the application of the Coney Island Jockey Club to restrain Police Commissioner Blagham and the police department from interfering with the "orderly collection of crowds" at the Sheepshead Bay race track. The continuance was granted on the request of the assistant corporation counsel, who explained that he had just received the papers in the case and had not had time to prepare his brief.

Reported Purchase.

Pittsburg, June 22.—A report was current in McKeesport this afternoon to the effect that the Westinghouse Electric Company at East Pittsburg, had been purchased by J. P. Morgan and associates for $40,000,000. The report could not be verified. T. H. Given, one of the receivers of the Westinghouse Company stated that if any such deal had been put through he had no knowledge of it.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Will Second Bryan's Nomination.

(Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.)
Richmond, June 22.—Governor Swanson, of Virginia, will make a speech at the democratic national convention at Denver seconding the nomination of William Jennings Bryan. The governor this morning received a lengthy letter from the Nebraska which covered various subjects and in which Mr. Bryan asked him to make a second speech. The governor will take pleasure in complying with the request and will so inform Mr. Bryan.

Killed by Lightning—Church Destroyed.

(Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.)
Richmond, June 22.—W. E. Norris, a prominent citizen of Waverly, was killed by lightning Sunday afternoon. The same storm set fire to the Carterville Presbyterian Church, which was burned to the ground.

Secretary Taft.

New York, June 22.—Tired, but smiling, Secretary Taft bowed acknowledgments to the cheers of a big crowd when he arrived on a Pennsylvania special train in Jersey City at 10:05 o'clock today. Mr. Taft, who was accompanied by "trust buster" Frank Kellogg and Judge Hollister, a school day friend, of Cincinnati, remained only a few minutes in Jersey City, hastening by the Twenty-third street ferry to the Manhattan Hotel, where he met his wife and child. He left at noon with them for New Haven where they will witness the boat races on Thursday and then will return to New York. On his return here Friday Secretary Taft will meet Gen. Luke Wright, his successor in the War Department, and the two will go to Oyster Bay for a consultation with the president. On June 27 he will go to Washington and close up his business of the War Department. After finishing up the business of his department in Washington Secretary Taft will return to Cincinnati where he expects to spend the months of September and October.

Women Students to be Expelled.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—One of the most sweeping repressive measures ever attempted by the czar was promulgated today when M. von Kaufman, minister of public instruction, decreed that all women students be expelled from Russian universities and that none be admitted henceforth. It was known that such a move was under consideration by the czar and his ministers, owing to the revolutionary activity of many of the women students and graduates, but there was little idea that such a radical step would be taken. The new edict affects 2,200 women, many of whom are nearing their graduation and hundreds of whom are making fearful sacrifices that they may obtain an education. Men students are sympathizing with the women, and if the new order is enforced there will undoubtedly be a repetition of the students' riots that for so long a time have featured the discontent and political unrest of the younger generation of Russians.

Searching for Alleged Swindler.

New York, June 22.—Secret service men with headquarters detectives are scouring New York today to find John Shaw, once a waiter, who as "Lieut. Smith Cox, Jr.," is accused of victimizing various New York clubs as well as having abducted Anna Louise, the 17-year-old daughter of Louis Behner, an official of the Hartford Insurance Company, living in Hartford, Conn. Shaw has operated in Boston, Minneapolis and Chicago. He was heard of in Point Pleasant, N. J., before coming to New York. Search for Shaw is said to have revealed his picture in the rogues' gallery at Salem, Mass., where as Lieut. Carhart and later Lieut. Grimshead he victimized local merchants and bankers to the extent of hundreds of dollars.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Hamburg, June 22.—A dozen arrests have been made here of discharged stevedores who are suspected of complicity in "planting" a bomb in the hold of the German freighter Arcadia, which exploded with such frightful results as the vessel was being unloaded at a pier in Philadelphia Saturday. The suspects are being put through a vigorous sweating and the police are confident that they will extract a confession. Not only are the police certain that some of the discharged stevedores placed the bomb in the hold of the Arcadia, but they believe that other vessels clearing from here have been similarly jeopardized, and word has been sent to all of those to exercise the greatest care in unloading.

Fire in a Torpedo Station.

Newport, R. I., June 22.—Fire early this morning at the government torpedo station located on an island in the harbor caused a panic here, for had the flames reached the high explosives stored in the magazines the explosions would have created havoc even on the main land. Fortunately the fire was confined to the chemical laboratory, where it originated. Here chemicals exploded with terrific results which gave rise to the rumor that the fire had reached the magazines. The interior of the laboratory was wrecked and its destruction will delay the manufacture of torpedoes on a large scale, which the government was to begin here on July 1.

Miners Lose Their Lives.

Paris, June 22.—Twelve miners are known to have lost their lives in an explosion of fire damp in a mine at Saint Etienne today. A number were injured and it is feared that when the shaft is searched other bodies will be found. Details of the accident are lacking. A relief train has been dispatched to the scene. A great crowd gathered about the mine and the distress of many of the women, mothers and wives of the miners whose fate was unknown was so great that they could hardly be restrained from entering the mine.

Jews Dissatisfied.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—The sentencing of thirteen Russians to prison today for complicity in the massacre of Jews at Bialystok two years ago, has not tended to pacify the Jews in the least. They assert that the men sentenced are being made the scapegoats for high Russian officials, who instigated the massacre. One of the convicted men was sentenced to three years in prison, and twelve others to nine months. The prosecutor begged for mercy for the men, declaring that the Jews themselves provoked the massacre.

Appointment of a Newspaper Man.

Oyster Bay, June 22.—President Roosevelt announced today that John Cailan O'Loughlin, of Washington, had been appointed secretary of the Japanese exposition commission. O'Loughlin is a well-known newspaper correspondent and is acceptable to the Tokio government.

The rumor that Secretary Loeb may be chosen chairman of the republican national committee to manage the Taft campaign may be dismissed as foundationless.

Miraculous Escape.

San Francisco, June 22.—Falling 500 feet in a balloon, Jos. Randall, an aeronaut, is today nursing only a few bruises after an escape at Idora Park, Oakland, which thrilled thousands of spectators. Randall was high in the air when a spark in some unknown way set the big gas bag aflame and it shot down like a meteor. He struck on the roof of a theater, but escaped practically unhurt.

The Fitzsimon-Morgan Wedding.

New York, June 22.—Fearing attempts by crooks on the jewels of the rich who will throng Tuxedo tomorrow for the wedding of Miss Ursula Morgan, niece of J. Pierpont Morgan, Chief of Police Gilmore Bosh of that fashionable resort, has asked the aid of central office men from this city. Miss Morgan is to wed Rev. Dr. Wm. Fitzsimon, rector of St. Mary's church, Tuxedo.

Labor Candidates.

Springfield, Ill., June 22.—John Mitchell for governor; S. O. Drew, republican, for lieutenant-governor. These are labor's selections for the state elections. Mitchell and Drew and eight candidates for the general assembly were endorsed by the Illinois Federation of labor of its district convention and an active campaign decided upon.

Heat Wave in Chicago.

Chicago, June 22.—Chicago gasped again today in the terrific heat wave which has gripped the city for three days. A dozen prostrations were reported early in the day and one death, William Hobson, 55 years old, dropped dead from heat in a down-town alley. The weather bureau promises no relief tonight.

Fines Imposed.

New York, June 22.—In the United States Circuit Court today Judge Hough imposed a fine of $2,000 each on twenty-four manufacturers of manila and fiber paper on their plea of guilty to violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

New York Stock Market.

New York, June 22.—The selling of Rock Island securities this caused weakness Saturday continued this morning. The preferred declined 2 1/2 points and the common one point. The market became heavy and at the end of the first hour prices generally showed losses ranging from fractions to over a point.

Mr. Taft reached New Haven today to attend the reunion of his class at Yale.

Cream

"The Whisky."

We desire to call your especial attention to the merits and quality of this celebrated whisky—Cream of Kentucky.

It's a perfect blend, smooth in taste
